Ogilvie's Hungarian Flour

(MILLED UNDER NEW AND UNPARALLELED METHODS)
PRODUCES MORE BREAD PER BARREL THAN ANY OTHER IN THE MARKET.

This Flour is very sharp and granular, of high creamy color, which means great strength. Requires plenty of water, and the dough must not be made too stiff, but softer than what you have been accustomed to when using other flours. REMEMBER, THAT INCREASED STRENGTH IN FLOUR MEANS MONEY TO YOU, yielding a greater quantity of bread, thus far more than repaying you for any little extra time. KEEP THE DOUGH SOFT, GIVING IT PLENTY OF GROWING ROOM. EACH BAG GUARANTEED. Sewn with our special twine—Red, White and Blue.

HEAVY FIRING.

Women and Children Killed During the Second Bombardment of Rio.

To Restore the Monarchy Is the Intention of the Revolt.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—The Herald's Montevideo special says: The rebel fleet which has so long been blockading the harbor of Rio Janeiro bombarded the city Sunday, under Admiral de Mello's order. The firing was severe, and the damage done exceeded that of the first bombardment. Several women and children were killed, but the extent of damage and loss of life is not known, as no news is permitted by the Government to be sent direct from Rio Janeiro. Part of de Mello's fleet is still keeping up a vigorous blockade of Santos. Copies of Admiral de Mello's proclamation have been received here. The leaders of the revolt declare that President Peixoto, with the aid of corrupt members of the senate and venal deputies, has overridden the restrictions put upon his powers by the constitution. Peixoto, he asserts, is trying to place Brazil under a rule of absolute tyranny. "If by my aid," the proclamation continues, "in making this stand for liberty, our cause shall triumph, I shall hand over the government to the charge of those honorable men who gave freedom to our nation before."

Four members of the Brazilian Congress on board the rebel cruiser Aquidaban have signed the address to the public. They say that President Peixoto and the members of his cabinet have been stealing public funds, destroying the autonomy of the states and fomenting national war, in order to serve their own ends. These acts, together with the dictatorial conduct of both the president and vice-president, compel the signers, as representatives of national will, to make the present solemn fight for freedom. They gave Admiral de Mello command of their forces with a view to restoring peace, restoring law and re-establishing republican principles. The address closes with an appeal to all patriotic Brazilians to help their cause.

Confirmation of the report of the renewal of the blockade of the Rio Grande ports by the rebels has been received. Fighting has taken place at Uruguaiana. The Brazilian minister here is sending arms and horses to Gen. Hypolete. The State of Parana is in open revolt against Peixoto.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—The Pall Mall Gazette says a cipher letter has been received from Rio de Janeiro showing that restoration of the monarchy is undoubtedly the intention of the revolt, and adding that the army and navy will soon co-operate to this end. The Brazilian minister in this city has received the following dispatch from Rio Janeiro: The revolution is growing weaker day by day. Admiral de Mello is reduced to the last extremity. All the states denounce his attempt to overthrow the present government, and the people are enthusiastic for Peixoto's government. The army generally is loyal. The city is an tranquil as if no revolt had occurred, and the Government is fully confident that it is sufficiently powerful to maintain its authority.

BUENOS AYRES, Sept. 25.—Ships of the insurgent fleet are blockading the port of Santos. The town of Rosario is in the hands of the rebels. The national troops retreated to San Nicolas, fifty miles distant from Rosario.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The delays and accidents that have contributed to prevent the United States government from affording adequate protection to the interests of its citizens in Brazil appear to be about at an end. The Charleston left Montevideo for Rio several days ago, but had no official or definite information to that effect was had until this morning, when a brief despatch, dated yesterday, was received from Mr. Hill, U. S. consul at Montevideo, stating that she left on Friday. She ought, therefore, to reach Rio inside of twenty-four hours.

RUSSIA'S FLEET.

The Government Will Not Officially Pay It Much Attention While in French Waters.

PARIS, Sept. 26.—Notwithstanding all the preparations and progress to welcome the Russian naval officers at Toulon next month, and to entertain them during the stay of the Czar's ships in French waters, it is evident that heed is being paid in official quarters to the Czar's request not to make the reception a cause for international dispute. Of course no limit can be placed on the private invitation tendered the visitors; but it is thought that many official entertainments that were proposed in the first exuberance of joy over the proposed visit will be abandoned. This, however, will not in any way mar the reception of the warships and their officers, for the programme will include events enough to fully occupy all the time the Russians will have to devote to them. It has been decided that President Carnot will not remain in Toulon more than two hours. He will pay a visit to the Russian squadron, but will not attend the official banquet to be given in honor of the Russian officers. The President will return to Paris as soon as his visit to the squadron is ended. A meeting was held in the Faubourg du Temple on Sunday afternoon, for the purpose of making arrangements for a pro-Russian fête in that quarter on the occasion of the approaching visit of the Russian fleet. The proceedings were constantly interrupted by groups of Italians and Germans present, who kept shouting: "Long live the triple alliance." The result was a free fight, during which twelve persons were injured, three seriously. Ten persons were arrested.

Prof. H. L. Calendar, of Cambridge, England, has been appointed to the new chair of Physics in McGill, which has been endowed to the extent of $250,000 by W. C. Macdonald, the millionaire manufacturer.

TORONTO TOPICS.

Laurier's Ontario Tour Ended—He Is Coming This Way—Huronario Ship Canal.

TORONTO, Sept. 26.—(Special)—Hon. Wilfrid Laurier left yesterday for Montreal, having completed his Toronto tour. The Liberal leader will shortly visit British Columbia and address a number of meetings there. It is possible he may address one or two meetings in Manitoba.

The City Council last night decided, after a long debate, to endorse the Huronario ship canal project in its present form. The decision was only reached on a tie vote.

STRIKING MINERS.

Negotiations Proceeding for a Resumption of Work—Some of the Conditions.

The Demands for Coal Render Owners Desirous that Work Be Resumed.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The Federation miners of the county of Lancaster have been meeting to-day at St. Helen's, Pendlebury and Preston to appoint delegates to the strikers' conference in Derby next Friday. The point at issue is whether the men shall continue the strike against the twenty-five per cent. reduction in wages proposed by the mine owners. The meetings voted by a large majority that their delegates favor a resumption of work in all the collieries where the owners would allow the old rate of wages. Every meeting, however, attached the condition that the owners should promise not to interfere with the levy for funds to be made by the Federation officials on all members. This condition will render a settlement of the strike still difficult as the object of the levy is to collect funds for another strike during the winter when the demands for coal will be heavier and the loss to the owners therefore must be considerable. The mine owners in private meeting in London, this morning, showed an inclination to compromise with the strikers. The rising price of coal renders them specially eager for a settlement, and they are willing to meet the miners half way. They approved, with a few dissenting voices, a resolution to offer the miners work at twelve instead of fifteen per cent. reduction of wages. It is doubtful if the men will accept this offer.

WINNIPEG WIRINGS.

Northwest Central Railway to be Sold—Reception to the Primate of Canada.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 26.—(Special)—Contractor Charlebois, of Quebec, who is interested in the Great Northwest Central railway, says the road will go under the hammer to the highest bidder.

An address will be presented to Archbishop Machray, Primate of Canada, by the citizens to-morrow night. The Primate is a son of Mr. Robert Machray, advocate, of Aberdeen, Scotland. He was born in 1832, and graduated from King's college, Aberdeen, in 1855, as B.A., with high honors in mathematics. He, in due course, obtained the degrees of M.A. and D.D. In 1857 he was advanced to the priesthood by the Lord Bishop of Ely. After a church career of ten years, marked with many distinguished honors, he was, in 1865, appointed by the Crown Bishop of Rupert's Land. Bishop Machray's episcopate has been marked by great progress in the welfare of the Church of England in his diocese. In 1874, on the sub-division of Rupert's Land diocese, Bishop Machray was chosen Metropolitan, under the primacy of the Archbishop of Canterbury. He is held in high esteem in his diocese, and is chancellor of St. John's college, Winnipeg, and professor of ecclesiastical history in the Theological college. Within the past year the Queen bestowed upon Bishop Machray a high honor by electing him a primate of the Order of St. Michael and St. George.

J. B. Fraser, well known in newspaper circles, both in Brandon and Winnipeg, died suddenly this morning in Elkhorn, where he had gone to attend the wedding of his niece.

A letter received by the Winnipeg Board of Trade from the Dominion Minister of Finance, conveys the intelligence that Mr. Foster will arrive in Winnipeg on Monday, Oct. 9, to confer with the members of the Board of Trade on the workings of the tariff. The Board of Trade committee is well prepared with grievances.

The Connelly-McGreedy Scandal—A Postponement Made Until November.

British Columbia Exhibits the Finest and Best Apple at the World's Fair.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

OTTAWA, Sept. 26.—Once more the long drawn out trial of criminal charges against Messrs. N. K. Connelly and Thomas McGreedy has been postponed, although the date for the next hearing of the case is not very far distant, November 14, having been fixed. To-day at the assizes Thomas McGreedy was not present on account of ill-health, although his counsel said he would be forthcoming when wanted. Martin Connelly and R. H. McGreedy responded when their names were called as witnesses, but when Cluny was not on hand a definite day for trial was asked for by Mr. Kerr, Q.C., representing the Attorney-General of Ontario, and it was for the convenience of all parties that November 14 was fixed. Mr. Kerr stated incidentally that no information had been received of an authoritative nature as to the reported death of Owen E. Murphy in New Haven, Conn. Martin Connelly and R. H. McGreedy, who had been arrested by virtue of certain bench warrants issued against them last term, were released on substantial bail.

Prof. Saunders, director of the experimental farm, received a letter to-day from Mr. Wolverson, superintendent of the Dominion fruit exhibit at the World's Fair. He said that one specimen from Canada was the cynosure of all eyes, it being the largest apple shown there, and completely put in the shade the mammoth production from Arkansas, weighing 20 ounces. The British Columbia product is 16½ inches in circumference, and weighs 24½ ounces. It is of German origin, and is known by the name of the red Bietigheimer. Apples of this variety have been successfully raised at the Central experimental farm. This is a country of mammoth productions; first cheese, now apples.

Lord Aberdeen formally opened the Central Canada Fall Exhibition this afternoon. Before doing so, His Excellency was presented with an address from the City Council welcoming him to Ottawa and congratulating him on his appointment as Governor-General.

STATESMEN WANTED.

Soundness of Policy and Not Pleading Matters What Canada Requires.

BERLIN, Ont., Sept. 26.—(Special)—Premier Sir John Thompson and several members of the Dominion Government reopened the Ontario campaign last evening by a mass meeting in the Skating Rink, which was densely crowded. The Premier, who made the principal speech of the evening, said the issue before the country had now become a question of Free Trade or Protection. Finance Minister Foster followed at considerable length in a review of the National Policy, as compared with the want of policy of the Liberal party. What Canada wanted, he said, was statesmen made of strength of mind and soundness of policy, and not simply of pleasing manners.

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT.

His Valor at Tel-el-Kebir Impugned by the British Radicals in Parliament.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The Radicals brought out to-day certain evidence as to the charges of cowardice against the Duke of Connaught. The Duke was accused of seeking to escape during the battle of the British troops under General Wolseley, with the Arabs at Tel El Kebir, in Egypt, in 1882. The origin of the accusation has been much discussed since the Duke was appointed to the Aldershot commission. A special correspondent who was in the field of Tel El Kebir has now come out with a letter giving the full story. When the troops were formed for the attack, he says the Duke of Connaught with his Guards brigade and General Allison with his Highland brigade were in the first line. Shortly after this formation was made, a despatch from England was handed to General Wolseley, who at once gave orders for a change in the line of attack. The Duke and his Guards were marched to the rear and the Irish brigade was brought up to the front. The purport of this change, says the correspondent, was understood perfectly throughout the army. Everybody knew that had the Guards not been under the command of the Queen's son, they would have retained their position of peril and honor.

Italian Minister Resigned.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—Count Tornielli Brucati di Vergano, Italian ambassador to Great Britain, has tendered his resignation. His reason is that, despite his warnings, the Italian Government allowed exaggerated importance to be attached to the plan that a British fleet should visit the Italian ports next month. The announcement that the first division of the Mediterranean squadron would remain in Italian waters from October 11 to October 31 had hardly been made when several Italian journals, and part of Germany's semi official press, tried to construe the courtesy as an answer to the Franco-Russian demonstration at Toulon. Some even prophesied that Great Britain was about to join the Triple Alliance. When Count Tornielli learned that the reports were secretly encouraged, if not countenanced, by the Italian Government, he repeated his original warning against this course, and when this failed of effect he decided to retire from his post.

(Special to the Colonist.)

WESTMINSTER.
NEW WESTMINSTER, Sept. 26.—The Westminster Slate Co. has been promised the order for all the slate required to roof the new Northwest Mounted Police barracks to be built soon.

The new electric light plant is all in position and was run last night for the first time.

The Lieut-Governor, Mrs. Dewdney and suite arrived from Victoria this afternoon and were received and welcomed by Mayor Curtis and several members of the Reception committee, who escorted the party to the Guichon hotel. The Colonial and other leading hotels are doing a lively business.

The city is full of visitors, and the exhibition promises to be the greatest in nearly every respect that was ever held here. Lieut-Governor Dewdney opens the fair to-morrow.

Thomas McNish, caretaker of the Fraser river salmon hatchery, and staff, went up to Harrison lake yesterday, where they will be engaged for several weeks securing salmon ova for the hatchery. His intention is to secure between 6,000,000 and 8,000,000 eggs.

The police are looking for the young man who by some means secured a number of yellow cards bearing the words "small pox" and tacked them to a number of doors in the swamp.

The law offices will close all day to-morrow and Thursday and on Friday afternoons. The clerks in the Government offices will each receive a holiday during the exhibition.

NANAIMO.

NANAIMO, Sept. 26.—A special general meeting of the shareholders of the Nanaimo Equitable Pioneer Society called for Saturday evening, will discuss the question of opening a butchering department in connection with the present store.

James Smith, detained on suspicion of being implicated in the recent wilful destruction of the N. V. C. Co. property has been released on $1,000 bonds.

Three of the civic fathers, Aldermen Hilbert, Nightingale and Cocking are confined to their homes with sickness.

Richard Williams, an old Cariboo miner and pioneer Nanaimoite, died last evening after a protracted illness. Williams has resided on and off for over twenty-five years in Nanaimo. Deceased was a native of Cornwall, England, aged about fifty years, a widower without relatives in this part of the world. He was a Free Mason in good standing and will be buried by Ashlar lodge on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The New Vancouver Coal Co.'s offices and mines were closed all day, as a mark of respect to the late Mrs. John Rosenfeld, of San Francisco, who died on Saturday and was buried to-day.

In the district panthers are playing havoc among the deer; plenty of carcasses are noticed in various parts of the bush.

Sailed, ss. Montserrat.

Arrived, steamers Romulus and Wellington.

Captain Williams, of the ship Wachusett, had a long passage up from San Pedro. Adverse winds were encountered continuously, and then ensued a succession of calms. After being out 33 days the vessel arrived at her destination.

NORTH SAANICH.

NORTH SAANICH, Sept. 25.—Summer has come again, and the standing crops are ripening and falling as they ripen before the reaper and binder. If the weather holds, farmers will generally have a good return, the oat crop being in fine form. The hop gardens are busy with pickers, but by the time this is in print most of the picking will be over. The crop is probably a fairly heavy one, and if picked clean should show a good sample, but it is too early to speak definitely.

The railway which will eventually connect Sidney with Victoria is creeping along, and already the iron horse has made his appearance. Naturally the undertaking excites a good deal of talk. Some people hold that it is part of some gigantic system of international communication.

The sportsmen who may be now laying their plans for campaign against the pheasants and other game in this district, would do well to make sure of his welcome before setting out. Nearly all the land owners here are determined to put an end to the indiscriminate trespassing that has hitherto been indulged in, involving injury to fences and stock. They have banded themselves together into a society, and any person found roaming about their lands without permission will be most assuredly prosecuted. The police are backing up the farmers, and official notices have been posted all over the district warning the public against infringements of the law.

ALBERNI.

ALBERNI, Sept. 23.—A very pleasant and enjoyable evening was passed in St. Andrew's church here, on Friday last, where a social was given by the ladies of the congregation to Rev. R. J. Adamson who is leaving for the East. Rev. G. Smith having been asked to preside spoke on the able manner in which Mr. Adamson had performed his duties during the past twelve months, and expressed the great regret which is generally felt at his coming departure. A very select programme of sacred music was rendered by the choir, assisted by Mrs. and Miss Fisher and others. Refreshments were served by the ladies of the congregation.

KASLO.

KASLO, Sept. 21.—A thrill of horror prevailed among the denizens of Front street this morning, when it became known at an early hour that the body of a suicide had been found in one of the vacant bedrooms in the second story of the Montana hotel. When the barroom was opened for business, one of the employees noticed a large pool of blood on the floor, which was being further increased by droppings of the fluid from the ceiling. An alarm was at once given and a search made for the cause. On entering the room immediately above, on the left hand side of the hall, a horrible sight was beheld. Lying in a mass of congealed blood, which had flowed in a stream from his gashed throat, was the remains of George Whitton, a prospector well known in the Kootenay district. The body was stretched at full length on the floor, the face partly exposed, while lying about two feet away was a common clasp knife, the blade open, with which the deed had been committed. From appearances it would seem that the deceased must have been standing, with his back to the door, and after pulling out his knife and severing the jugular vein, dropped on the floor and expired without a struggle. The throat was cut from ear to ear, making a gaping wound from which the life blood literally flowed in a stream. Life must have been extinct within a few minutes after the commission of the deed. Whitton came to town about three weeks ago, and at the beginning of the week informed a friend of his intention to make away with himself, which threat he successfully carried out last night, while suffering from an attack of delirium tremens. The unfortunate man was a native of the United States, 32 years of age and unmarried. Dr. Arthur, coroner of the district, was telephoned for and an inquest will be held upon his arrival from Nelson.

W. Hineine, travelling freight agent of the C. P. R., at Seattle, arrived in town from Nelson, for the purpose of making arrangements with the mine owners for the shipment of ore by his road to San Francisco. In this he has been eminently successful, as the Nelson has taken out nearly 100 tons already this week. More will be taken out as fast as it is brought in. Mr. Hineine said that his company were determined to get their share of the business from this district. Work on the Nakusp line was proceeding rapidly and grading would be pushed on to Three Forks this fall, at which place the company had obtained terminal facilities. It was probable that the whole of this stretch would be ironed this winter, at least it would be in working shape by next May. At a meeting of the Legislature an application would be made for permission to build from Three Forks to Kaslo in the spring, and thence to Balfour, along Lake Kootenay, to connect with the Nelson and Fort Sheppard railway, thus affording a continuous line of rail from Revelstoke to Spokane, all to be completed within a year, as promised to the Spokane merchants during the summer by General Manager Van Horne. As a result of this freight rates would be reduced, the mail service improved, and the whole district materially benefited.

The State of Idaho took out 50 tons of Washington ore on Tuesday morning for shipment to San Francisco. A further shipment of 50 tons from the Freddie Lee was made this morning.

Now that the money market is becoming loosened, the attention of capital is being directed to the Slocan country, many inquiries having been made during the past week by American capitalists for suitable investments. Negotiations are now going on between Chicago parties and the owners of one of the leading mines near here for the sale of the property at a very stiff figure, to be paid inside of three weeks. A late official report of the ores in the Kootenay run on an average: St. Mary's country, a fraction over 40 ounces of silver per ton; Ainsworth, about 55 ounces, and the Slocan, over 200 ounces. These figures speak for themselves.

The Roman Catholics held a successful matinee in the dining room of the Palace hotel this afternoon, an exceptionally good programme being produced by local talent. The receipts were large. This evening the affair is being wound up with a dance in the same place.

A public reception to Rev. W. L. Hall and family is being held this evening, in the Lakeview, by the Methodists.

Monday night a big dance was given in the Slocan. Twenty-five couples were present.

Last Friday afternoon a meeting of the creditors of J. M. Burke's bank was held, there being a large attendance. J. L. Retallack, receiver, presided, and made a statement of the bank's assets and liabilities, both of which are in the neighborhood of $33,000. The assets, however, include considerable real estate, upon which a rather high figure is placed. No date was fixed for the first pro rata payment, and the whole winding up will be a long and tedious affair.

Fletcher & Fletcher, proprietors of the Grand Central, have secured control of the bar and dining room of the Slocan.

There are twenty-eight four-horse teams now engaged hauling ore on the wagon road, and this number will be still further increased shortly.

The Victorians resident here are jubilant over the successes of the V. L. C. in Eastern Canada.

The Miner Boy, near Watson, has commenced shipping ore, twenty tons having been brought into town so far.

There was but a small attendance present at the lecture by Rev. E. Robson in the Presbyterian church Saturday evening. Mr. Robson occupied the pulpit on Sunday evening.

Arrangements are being made by the Methodist at Ainsworth for a big concert shortly, assistance being given by Kaslo talent.

Sullivan & Savage, furniture dealers, have made an assignment to H. Aldous for the benefit of their creditors.

P. J. Savage, proprietor of the New York Coffee House, has purchased a sixth interest in the Cascade mine, on Grizzly creek, from Graham & Flaherty, for $450.

The weather during the past week has been very inclement and cold, the surrounding hills being covered with snow.

J. L. Retallack, as returning officer, has called a meeting of the ratepayers at the Government buildings on September 30th, for the purpose of nominating a mayor and aldermen for this new city. The election is set for October 7th, but there is little likelihood of a contest resulting. Some tall wire pulling is being done for some of the municipal offices.

The main business office of the C. P. R. is to be removed from Nelson to Kaslo, this place being more centrally located.

While the family of G. D. Buchanan were at the lecture on Saturday evening, their home was burglarized, an entrance being effected through a window. A purse containing $35, a valuable diamond ring and two keys, one of them of their home in Nelson, were abstracted. No clue has been obtained as to the identity of the robbers.

Kaslo sent a big contingent to Nelson on Tuesday for the County court proceedings.

A Druggist's Story.

An Ontario druggist, doing business in a large and flourishing city recently remarked to one interested in Paine's Celery Compound, that the sale of that medicine with him was something extraordinary. He asserted that the combined sales of all other regular remedies would not equal the demand for Paine's Celery Compound. When asked for a reason for the great demand, he said: "Paine's Celery Compound gives more general satisfaction and better results than any other medicine I handle. People are influenced by results and cures, and will not spend money the second time for worthless preparations. I am firmly convinced from observation and experience that Paine's Celery Compound accomplishes all it promises. The great remedy is at the head of all others and must prove the most popular with sufferers. I recommend it to my customers every day."

A world of misery is implied in the words "Sick Headache." A world of relief is wrapped up in a twenty-five cent box of MARINE MOVEMENTS.

Arrival of the R. M. S. "Empress of India"—Her Passenger List and News.

Activity at the Outer Wharf—Two More Sealers Return Home—Notes.

The R. M. S. Empress of India, Captain O. P. Marshall, R.N., completed a pleasant homeward voyage yesterday, when she reached this port at 7 a.m., eleven days from Yokohama. She had had an uneventful passage, and brought fewer notables than are usually named on the Empress' lists. The cargo was heavy, chiefly composed of tea, and there were 50 Chinese for Victoria among the 200 odd in the steerage. Of the saloon passengers the best known here is Mr. D. E. Brown, of the C.P.R., who has now returned from a six months' business residence in China, and who will to-day take to himself a Mrs. Brown—the bride being Miss Post, a popular Tacoma lady. Mr. Brown went over to Tacoma last night. Others of the passengers were Rear Admiral H. Bury Palhster, formerly commodore of Hongkong, who, with his wife and Miss Featherstonehaugh, his niece, is returning to England; Captain Bourke, R.N., formerly commander of the Garnet and Hyacinth, and who raised the British flag on Cook Islands—now retired from service and homeward bound; and Lieut. Richardson, R.N., of H.M.S. Mercury, travelling back to England on furlough. These compose the naval representatives. Among the missionaries are Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Boggs and their family, travelling to Halifax after fifteen years' continuous service; and Rev. F. P. Sutherland, the pioneer of the Canadian Presbyterian church in Japan. The other names upon the passenger list were: Mr. Blum, Mr. and Mrs. Blakenburg, Mr. C. A. Connolly, Mr. Dayton, Miss Dayton, Mr. Greaves, Dr. Kagami, Dr. V. M. Law, Mr. and Mrs. Mackay, Mr. G. Mackay, the Misses Mackay, Mr. Myers, Miss J. A. Myers, Mr. H. Putnam, Mr. K. Putnam, Mr. J. Richards, Mr. W. A. Wilson, and Mr. G. A. Willis. The principal news items contained in the Oriental papers received by the Empress, chronicle the sale of the Vitzia wreck to Mr. Yamashino Reizo, of Tokio for 17,000 yen; Mr. Oishi, late minister for Japan to Corea, is coming to America by the next C. P. R. steamer, and Mr. William Taylor, who was murdered by a Dacoit at Bangkok, was married a day or two before the mail steamer left, to the little Siamese lady, Me Sap, who so pluckily saved his life. The Asahi reports the loss of the sailing vessel Shinyo Maru, owned by Mr. Taubata, of Aburagawa-mura, Tangu district, Awomori Prefecture, with twenty-two lives. The Shinyo Maru was on her way from Wakana, Soya district, Hokkaido, to Aburagawa-mura on the 4th inst., when she encountered a violent gale and foundered off Okijiri. Out of a total of twenty-eight crew and passengers on board six only were saved. The bodies of seven of those drowned have been recovered. The gale which proved so disastrous to the Shinyo Maru was doubtless the same as that experienced at Hakodate the same day which, as already reported, did much damage to the small craft in the harbor and to property ashore. The Acheen pirates have been again heard from. The report is received from Wenchow that a war junk while cruising among the western islands came across the pirate craft leaving a merchant junk lying within a small cove for shelter. A gun was fired by the war junk and the pirates then engaged the Government craft. The firing attracted two other war junks cruising in the vicinity, and the pirates were overpowered and thirteen of them made prisoners. A search of the pirate junk revealed seven men, who, it turned out, had been taken from the merchant junk, in order to be held for ransom. The merchant captain and his crew were returned to Wenchow, where they were decapitated.

BUSY LIFE AT THE DOCKS.

The outer wharves presented an animated scene yesterday morning when the steamers Yosemite, Danube, R. P. Rithet and Maude were discharging salmon, while the barks Routenbeck and Sirene were loading it; the City of Puebla was loading general freight and the Empress of India was off a short distance from the dock sending her Victoria freight, mail and passengers ashore. The Yosemite brought down from New Westminster 4,500 cases of salmon for the bark Routenbeck, several hundred sacks of grain and a quantity of other freight, besides a large number of passengers, thirty of whom are Californians returning home from Chicago. Two other large consignments of salmon arrived from the Fraser river yesterday morning. The Maude brought one of these, the other, consisting of over 7,000 cases, having come by the R. P. Rithet. As freight the City of Puebla had about 125 tons of Chinese merchandise ex-steamship Victoria, to load here. This, in addition to what she brought from the Sound, loaded her well down. Her passenger accommodation was also well taken upon leaving here, the following being among those who took cabin passage from Victoria: Mrs. E. Moore, Miss M. Moore, Miss E. Moore, James Molman and wife, William White and wife, M. Lullian, H. B. Phillips, A. Bluth, D. J. Carogieg, W. M. Southern, Mrs. Chapman, Mrs. C. Beauchamp, Mrs. H. J. Heaney, Miss S. Howard, Mrs. S. J. Dend and daughter, L. McLaughlin, C. Spratt, Mrs. H. J. Westford and child, Mrs. A. Whitworth, Miss B. McGann, Mrs. McGann, W. H. Wall, wife and two children, W. D. Forbes and W. J. Poland.

TWO MORE AT HOME.

The sealers Katherine and Enterprise have returned from the Russian coast, the former with 363 skins and the latter with 274. Neither of these totals, however, represents the catch of either, as both had sent skins home early in the season. The vessels were becalmed for several days in the Straits, but their cruises have been uneventful.

MARINE NOTES.

H.M.S. Dolphin is at Yokohama. The British four-masted ship Samaritan arrived at Shanghai from Royal Roads (B.C.) on September 5. The American schooner Anaconda was discharging seal skins at Yokohama when the Empress of India left.

THE MASSES AND THE CLASSES.

TO THE EDITOR:—Such, sir, is the representation of which it suits Premier Gladstone to say the community of our country is at present composed. It might, perhaps, answer the political purpose of this "old parliamentary hand" to make this statement, but it is not correct, and it is misleading, in fact it is a delusion and a snare, for it completely ignores the existence and influence of that important element the middle class. Now the ascendant position of our country unquestionably arises from a combination of causes, but if it were left to me to say it arose from any one cause, it would suit my feelings and my judgment to say it arose from the intelligence, the manliness and good common sense of the middle class. In other countries the newspapers report what is going on at their capitals, Paris, Berlin, etc., but with us there is no such centralization or allusion to our capital, for there are such places as Manchester, Liverpool, Birmingham, Bristol and Belfast, and it is from these various arenas, where the middle class most do congregate, that there is gained the sentiments that animate the British mind. It is this mischievous classification of classes, and masses, that in the past gave France so much trouble, and a revolution from which she has not yet, and perhaps never will, recover. True it is, we have had revolutions in England, cutting off the head of one king and sending another king about his business. But we got well through our troubles, without any of those excesses that tarnish the history of other countries. But we don't want any more revolutions. This talk of classes and masses has an objectionable antagonistic sound. With it, revolutionary, may mean "down with the House of Lords," and eventually abolition of the monarchy. This spurious coin, from the Gladstonian mint, should never have been put in circulation. W. K. B.

ROYAL TEMPLARS INSURANCE.

TO THE EDITOR:—It may not be generally understood that the organization known as Royal Templars of Temperance is an insurance society as well as a temperance order. There is no doubt that in this order insurance can be obtained at a lower rate than from any other company or benefit society whatever, and it is not difficult to see the reason for this. Necessarily only total abstainers are received and only to such are certificates issued. The risks are therefore reduced to a minimum, and are less than in cases where no such distinction is made, and no difference observed in regard to applicants.

Scientific men, the world over, admit the fact that total abstinence conduces to health and longevity, while intemperance produces the reverse conditions to mankind; therefore the R. T. of T. offers insurance at such rates as cannot be obtained elsewhere. This is especially important for the working man or wage earner, who, no doubt, wishes to secure insurance, where it can be obtained at the lowest rates. From twenty-five to thirty years of age, a man or woman may be insured in the R. T. of T. for one thousand dollars by paying the trifling sum of fifty-five cents per annum. This is an undoubted fact, and as such should be noted by those who wish to make such a provision for their families.

The large surplus now on hand in the funds of the order is worthy of mention, as there is no likelihood of bankruptcy even in case of a severe or widespread epidemic. Thus in its financial security the order offers a perfectly safe investment for a very trifling sum. In these days of sudden financial crisis and bank failures it is necessary, especially for the man of small means, to invest safely, and this, the R. T. of T., enables him to do with ample security. Victoria, Sept. 25, 1893.

CLEVELAND SCORED.

Senator Stewart, of Nevada, Devotes His Attention to Dressing Down the President.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—President Cleveland was the object of a prolonged personal attack in the Senate to-day on the part of Senator Stewart (Republican), Nevada. Mr. Stewart spoke for nearly three hours on the resolution which he had offered on Saturday as to the relative independence of the three co-ordinate branches of the Government. That independence he charged the Government with disregarding in many ways, but particularly in not causing the silver purchase law and the Chinese Exclusion law to be faithfully executed. But worse even than the non-execution of the laws appeared to be, in Mr. Stewart's opinion, the contemptuous allusions to Congress which he found in Mr. Cleveland's letters and interviews. He was particularly embittered by the President's allusions, in one of his letters, to "Having Congress on his hands." This was an indignity beyond endurance, and then, in addition, the Nevada Senator scoffed at the President for his want of a collegiate or any other liberal education that would fit him for his high office and read the President's brief biography in the Congressional directory, laying much stress on and seeking to extract humor from the points of Mr. Cleveland's career as assistant teacher of the blind, clerk, sheriff, mayor and petty lawyer. Speeches against the repeal bill were then made by Mr. Cameron (Republican, Pennsylvania), and Mr. Bates (Democrat, Tennessee). After these speeches, Mr. Stewart occupied the remainder of the day's session. The Senate adjourned at 5:45 p.m.

ALL MEN

Young, old or middle aged, who find themselves nervous, weak and exhausted, who are broken down from excess or overwork, resulting in many of the following symptoms: Mental depression, premature old age, loss of vitality, loss of memory, dimness of sight, palpitation of the heart, headaches, pimples on the face and body, dizziness, specks before the eyes, twitching of the muscles, eyelids and elsewhere, bashfulness, deposits in the urine, loss of will power, tenderness of the scalp and spine, weak and flabby muscles, desire to sleep, failure to be rested by sleep, constipation, dullness of hearing, loss of voice, desire for solitude, excitability of temper, sunken eyes, surrounded with LEADEN CIRCLES, oily looking skin, etc., are all symptoms of nervous debility that lead to insanity unless cured. The spring or vital force having lost its tension every function wanes in consequence. Those who through abuse committed in ignorance, may be permanently cured. Send your address and ten cents in stamps for book on diseases peculiar to man, sent sealed. Address M. V. LUBON, 24 Macdonnell Ave., Toronto, Ont., Canada.

Please mention this paper.

ESTABLISHED 1879.

Real Estate Agent, Conveyancer and Notary Public

Loans Effected, Rents and Income Collected, Deeds Prepared, Etc., Etc.

FOR SALE—A 1388-ACRE FARM

About 1000 Acres of which is Ploughable Prairie of First-class Quality.

120 Head (more or less) Cows, Steers, 2-year olds, etc., etc., (about 60 or more to calve this spring), 1 pedigree Hereford Bull (rising 3 years.

7 Mares (in foal to a good stallion), 1 Horse, Pigs, Chickens, etc.

Ploughs, Harrows, Reaper, Fanning Mill, Wagon, Sleds and usual Farm Implements.

Double Harness, Chain Harness, Bull Chains, Saddles (ladies' and gent's), Bridles, etc.

Blacksmiths' Bellows, Anvil and Tools and Carpenters' Tools.

9-Room House (shingle roofed; Stable for 10 horses, with hay loft above; Stone Roothouse, Store Buildings, Dairy, Cow Sheds, etc., etc.

4 Miles (about) Standing Fences, in good order; Corralls, 10 miles barbed wire and staples; about 2,500 Posts on the ground, ready for use, etc., etc.

Small Lot Household Furniture, Stove and Pipes, Crockery, etc., etc.

This Property is within easy distance of many of the most important Gold, Silver and Coal Mines in West Kootenay. The population of this district will increase this year by at least 10,000; the area of farm land is very limited, and from this it may be fairly ascertained that beef and all classes of farm produce will find a ready and lucrative market. The soil is the best bottom land, and the locality is one of the few places in the Province where so large a piece of good farm land can be found in one block. A river runs through the property, and rainbow trout are plentiful and afford capital sport. Deer abound in considerable numbers. Bear, Wolf, Coyote and other large game are to be found in the hills. There are two creeks recorded and belonging to the estate, one flows all the year round. Limestone and brick clay are to be had in the valley.

The Cattle are well bred; a much larger herd could be farmed with the place. The bunch grass on the hills in the vicinity covers many thousands of acres, and is available to the few land owners in the valleys. All buildings and fences about the farm are in good order, and farming operations can be gone on with at once; about 180 acres of ploughing have been, so far, provided for this year's work.

The Climate is not severe, the land being about 1,100 feet above sea level; the station was for many years the winter quarters of the H. B. Co.'s pack trains. There is a weekly express in and out. Goods and supplies at wholesale can be procured on order and delivered in 48 hours.

The Title is by grant from the Crown, and is free of all encumbrances. Immediate possession can be given.

Important Railway works are now in progress within moderate distance, and two railway lines have been run to pass close to or through the estate, which can be reached in the spring in three days' journey from Victoria.

The South West Kootenay District, British Columbia, judging from the actual ore products of the mines this winter, is destined in the next year or two to become one of the richest and most important mineral centres in the world. Statistics show, that although the district is in its primary stage, the mines have developed ore veins rich enough to warrant the investment of over a million dollars. When these mines come to be worked systematically, there will be an Influx of Population, which will require beef and farm produce in large quantities. The limited quantity of really good farm land in the district to supply these requirements makes this

A BONANZA!

To any person or corporation having the capital and knowledge necessary to develop and work this estate. A store, hotel and blacksmith shop could be run in connection with the farm.

Rheumatic Liniment and Mixture

Rapid and Effective Cure.

Victoria, B. C., Jan. 17, 1893.

To Dean & Cryderman, druggists,

GENTLEMEN,—With much pleasure I add my testimony to your valuable Marvellous Rheumatic Cure. For three months I suffered terrible pain. Could not move only by the aid of two sticks. I have only taken two bottles of the medicine and two of the liniment, and I can now go without sticks, and hope after the third bottle to go to work.

Yours very thankfully,

S. NORMAN,

A SUGGESTION.

We trust that the civic authorities and the leading men in the community will not neglect to use their influence to prevail upon the Admiral to have a naval demonstration or a sham fight while the war ships are in port. We are quite sure that Admiral Stephenson has only to be asked in the right way and by the proper persons, in order to obtain for the citizens this treat. And it is a treat—one that will be enjoyed by them all both young and old. The last demonstration of the kind given by Admiral Henegge was highly appreciated by them and they will be delighted to see it repeated.

AN UNREASONABLE DEMAND.

The bricklayers will find that they have made a mistake in insisting upon their objection to the inspectors chosen by the City Council and the Board of School Trustees. It is so evident that it is the right of those who pay for the work to have the power of selecting their own inspector that all unprejudiced and disinterested men look upon the demand of the bricklayers as most unreasonable.

Let it be admitted that the workmen have the power to restrict the choice of the employer in one respect, and it will have to be allowed that they have as good a right to restrict it in other respects. For instance, bricklayers say that they do not require the inspector to be a member of their union, all they want is a practical bricklayer. But supposing that the demand for a "practical" man is conceded, who is to say that the next demand will not be for a union man?

It must be evident to the bricklayers themselves that the man who is getting the work done has the right to oversee it himself, or to employ anyone in whom he has confidence to oversee it for him. This is how they would act themselves if they were getting work done. If the overseer or inspector chosen by the owner of the work is incompetent, all the worse for him. He, and not the bricklayers or other workmen, will have to suffer for his ignorance and incompetence.

Then who is to guarantee that the practical bricklayer would make a good inspector. A bricklayer may be a capital workman but a very poor inspector. He may, besides, be lazy, or careless or dishonest or bad tempered or tyrannical. Would, for instance, the bricklayers object to a practical man who is dishonest, who will allow men to scamp their work and to play other tricks known to the trade? Would their union compel them to denounce a practical inspector because he was not faithful to his employers, or even because he showed himself incompetent to inspect? It is only reasonable that if the bricklayers insist upon restricting the choice of the City Council and the School Trustees to a "practical" man, they should be prepared to guarantee the competency and honesty of the practical man. They would, in fact, virtually have the appointment of the inspector in their own hands.

Then again, if the bricklayers must have a practical bricklayer as inspector of their work, what are the carpenters and plumbers and other tradesmen employed about the work to do? Must they be content to submit to the inspection of an inspector chosen by the men responsible for the proper construction of the work though he may not be a "practical" man in their several trades?

We are surprised that the bricklayers do not see that by making a demand which appears unreasonable and even absurd to men not belonging to their union, they are standing in their own light and doing the cause of unionism an injury. It has become evident that workmen of all kinds, in their efforts to better their condition as a class, must, to be successful, have the support of public opinion. They cannot accomplish any object which is worth contending for where the community at large disapproves of the course they take. They want the help and the sympathy of their fellomen. They cannot do without them. But these they cannot get if they are unreasonable and if they act in disregard of the rights of others.

WHAT NEXT?

Mr. Gladstone's position is being discussed both at home and abroad. There are some who say that the proper thing for him to do is to accept the challenge virtually made by the House of Lords and appeal, with the least possible delay, to the people. This, they say, he would do without hesitation, if he were reasonably sure of a favorable verdict. That he does not do it, is to them proof positive that he knows that the nation is not on his side. If he appealed from the Lords to the people, and obtained a verdict favorable to his policy, the victory would be a signal one, and would ensure the extension of Home Rule to Ireland. Mr. Gladstone, it is contended, would not lose the chance of gaining such a triumph over his opponents if he believed that a majority of the people are favorable to his policy.

But it is evident that Mr. Gladstone has no intention of trying to obtain the sanction of the people to his policy. It is clearly his intention to hold on to power as long as he can, whether he has the nation on his side or not. There is talk of his attempting to prevail upon the House of Commons to pass his bill a second time and to give the Lords a chance of rejecting it again. This they certainly will do, and they will have even a better reason for rejecting it a second time than they had the first. They will then have more cause to believe that the nation is not in favor of his Home Rule policy than they had a few weeks ago, when they threw his bill out by such a sweeping majority. Of course, the Radicals will set up the cry "Down with the House of Lords" more furiously than ever, but they will find then, as they do now, that the nation is not with them. It is very evident that the people of Great Britain are with the Lords in this matter. There are no indications that their action is disapproved by the great mass of the people. On the contrary, there are signs that the nation is well pleased that the Lords have exercised their power in the way they have done.

It is pretty clear now that the Queen does not intend to call upon Mr. Gladstone for his resignation. Her Majesty is too wise to give him an opportunity of posing before the nation as a martyr. The Prime Minister has it in his power, by advising a dissolution, to end the controversy between him and the House of Lords in the regular constitutional way, and also in strict accordance with the principles of the Liberal party. If he does not see fit to avail himself of it, it is not the part of those who are opposed to his policy to help him out of the difficulty in which he has placed himself. It is clear that Mr. Gladstone is to be allowed rope enough, but what use he will make of it does not yet very clearly appear. It is certain, however, that, sooner or later, there will be an election on the Home Rule issue. In that election the cry against the House of Lords will be made to do duty on the side of the Home Rulers. But it will be singular if it has any effect, for if it were not for the action of the House of Lords, the people would never have the opportunity of pronouncing on Mr. Gladstone's scheme of Home Rule.

A MIXED ASSEMBLAGE.

The Parliament of Religions lately in session in Chicago, was, as an assemblage, perfectly unique and its proceedings are most interesting to all men and women who are seriously inclined, whether they are what is commonly called religious or not. Men of different and what are generally supposed to be antagonistic religious systems were there on the same platform, perfectly free to say what they believed to be the truth. And many availed themselves of the privilege. The speeches made and the papers read by the representatives of the different religions were listened to with respectful attention and it is needless to say that perfect decorum was observed.

The reader will be able to form some idea of the proceedings of this very peculiar congress and of what apparently incongruous elements it is composed, when he learns who were the speakers at one of last week's meetings. The meeting was opened by the audience joining in the Lord's Prayer. The audience is thus described. "Day after day, in fact, and session after session, the audience is the same. It has apparently resolved itself into a great class of three thousand students and each day the same people are in the same seats. To a careful observer it has become easy to tell in what direction the sympathies of the more demonstrative auditors lean. When an orator, who advocates the faith in which they believe is presented, they show at once their approval by almost frantic applause. When a speaker who tells of the glories of another faith is on the platform they are ominously silent."

The first speaker was the Rev. Henry M. Field, of New York. He made a delightful speech, tracing the growth of tolerance in a man of fine feeling and a large and receptive mind. When he was young he found it difficult to believe that a Democrat could be saved, but when he had grown older he was able to say: "It has been my fortune to travel in many lands, and I have not been in any part of the world so dark but I have found some rays of light—some proof that the God who is our God and father has been there, and that the temples which are reared in many religions resound with sincere worship and praise of Him."

Mr. Field was followed by the Rev. James Brand, of Oberlin, O., and the next speaker was Count A. Bornstorff, "a blonde-bearded, broad-shouldered Teuton." He read a paper on the religious state of Germany.

Mahomed Alexander Russel Webb, the American convert to Mahomedanism, next gave a reason for the faith that is in him. He had the audacity to defend polygamy, and while he was doing so, the audience was not backward in showing its disapproval of what he said; but he continued, nevertheless. When Mr. Webb came to speak of the devotion of the Mahomedans, and of the conscientious regularity with which they repeat their prayers, he was warmly applauded. His speech was an instructive one, and was, no doubt, listened to with interest and curiosity to hear what a man who had been brought up a Christian could say in favor of the religion of Mahomet.

The Rev. B. Fay Mills, who is described as "a smooth-faced young preacher who served a terrible apprenticeship as a professional gambler in San Francisco," presented most acceptably an antidote for the bane dispensed by the American Mahomedan. His theme was a congenial one, "Christ the Saviour of the World," and he handled it in such a way as to work up his audience of three thousand to the highest pitch of enthusiasm. Mr. Mills told the men who professed and called themselves Christians, but who did not live up to their profession, some wholesome truths in a very effective way.

The other speakers were Prof. Theodore F. Wright, of Harvard college; the Rev. Ida C. Hulton, of Moline, Ill.; A. Marderos Ignados, of Smyrna; Mr. Heiant Kiretchjian, of Constantinople; Prof. Toy, of Harvard; Hironishi Kozaki, President of Doshitsu University, Japan; and Professor Waldo S. Pratt. The reader sees that the mixture of speakers was a singular one, and he may conclude that the mixture of ideas was quite as singular. Whether the result will be beneficial or not, time alone can tell.

Highest of all is Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

THE CITY.

LAST night's meeting of the B.C. Agricultural Association directorate was adjourned until Friday, very little business being transacted.

THE case of George J. Cook, charged with larceny, was called in the Police court yesterday, but was adjourned until 2 o'clock to-day without being gone into.

PORT TOWNSEND reports the arrival of still another schooner load of Chinese from British Columbia, and notwithstanding the vigilance of the customs officials the business is said to be becoming more profitable than ever.

THE following dentists from Victoria will attend the annual meeting of the British Columbia Dental Association held at New Westminster this week: A. R. Baker, T. J. Jones, A. C. West, A. E. Verinder, L. Hall, A. Findley and H. B. Parker.

MR. HENRY COOK, of this city, bagged an unusually large black bear, weight 250 pounds, on the Leach river trail last Sunday. The animal was accompanied by her cub and made a gallant fight, advancing under fire, though suffering from three bullet wounds, and only falling dead a few feet from the hunter, whose companion fled in alarm.

A MORMON agent named S. J. Klien has paid Victoria a flying visit, having come here from Seattle, which city he will pass through again on his way home to Salt Lake City. He is said to have visited Seattle because he had heard that Canadian Government immigration agents were meeting with success there, and he aimed at securing a share of the immigrants.

MICHAEL LYNCH, charged with the larceny of 163 sealskins from the schooner Ocean Belle, was up for trial in the Provincial Police court yesterday before Magistrate Macrae. Mr. P. A. Irving, of Bowdell & Irving, appeared for the defence. The case dragged along all afternoon, no new facts of importance being developed. At 6 o'clock an adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock to-day.

ST. MARK'S CHURCH, on Boleskine road, bore many tributes to the harvest season last evening, the occasion being the annual autumn festival. Appropriate services were conducted by Rev. Canon Beaulieu and music suitable for the occasion was supplied by a choir of strong and sweet voices, accompanied by both organ and orchestra. The service will be repeated on Sunday, the decorations of the church remaining until then.

YESTERDAY was another "off" day with the bricklayers, consequent on the refusal of the Council and the School Board to remove the inspectors, to whom exception had been taken. The men appear, however, to realize that no good can come from further abstention from work, which is apt to compel the contractors to bring in workmen from other places, and it will not be surprising if the work upon the schools and sewers is resumed this morning.

THE concert to be given this evening at Institute hall, by the Arion club, is looked forward to as one of the musical treats of the season. The public who have pleasant recollections of former concerts by the same club, are particularly anxious to hear the new programme, and there is no doubt when the first number begins the hall will be crowded to the doors. The ticket-investments for the event have all been exhausted, so great has been the demand.

ATTENTION is directed to the advertisement of Miss McMicking, whose classes in physical culture and dancing open on Saturday, October 7, at St. James' hall. All who witnessed the closing exercises of these classes last spring and noted the degree of efficiency attained in the short term then completed, will be pleased to know that another opportunity is at hand in which to acquire the graceful carriage and healthful physical exercise imparted under Miss McMicking's tuition.

THOUGH ignorance of the law excuses no one, ignorance of fire arms enabled Samuel Booth to escape punishment for what is a serious offence—purchasing a rifle belonging to the militia of Canada. Booth keeps a second-hand store on Johnson street and secured the weapon—a long Snider—for $1 from a young member of the brigade who has since left the city. He testified when arraigned in the Police court that he had no idea that it was Government property he was buying and was discharged with a caution to be more careful in future.

ANYTHING from a pretty little button-hole bouquet to a toilet set could be purchased with comparatively little exertion in the Victoria West hall, yesterday afternoon and evening, when a very successful bazaar and sale of work was conducted by the Ladies Aid of the St. Paul's Presbyterian church, with Mrs. D. MacRae as supervisor. The bazaar opened at two o'clock, and a brisk business was carried on by the ladies until five o'clock, when an intermission of three hours was afforded for tea, an event that, owing to its many attractive features (one of which might probably be the hearty participation and refreshment exemplified by those who occupied the first chairs at the table) was without doubt a most satisfactory one. The sale of work, however, continued subsequently, and there were not many in attendance who did not make some investments. Those who presided over the sales tables were as follows: Plain work table, Mrs. Mann, Mrs. Semple and Mrs. Russell; fancy table, Mrs. Downer, and Miss McKie; flower table, Miss Semple and a number of little girls; plain and fancy table, the Happy Workers; ice cream and candy table, Mrs. Dickinson, Miss Gossie, Miss Bruce and Miss Russell; and supper table, Miss McLennan, Mrs. Steele, Mrs. Beaton, Mrs. McDonald, Miss Russell, Mrs. Skinner, Mrs. Moir and Mrs. A. Semple. A select musical programme was provided during the evening by Mrs. MacRae, Miss Fraser, Miss Stanford, Miss Heywood and Miss Sharp. The last named lady is an accomplished musician who has recently arrived from the East. Her work here is in connection with the Victoria conservatory of music. Her vocal rendition of "Home Sweet Home" captivated the audience and placed her as a musician high in the estimation of all those who were in attendance last evening. The proceeds of the affair will be devoted to the building fund of the church.

CARMANAH sustains its reputation as a place for sport. In a leisure hour yesterday morning, the telegraph operator there killed a fine deer. In the afternoon he found time to go bear hunting, and a lusty fellow weighing 350 pounds soon fell a victim to his trusty rifle. But a panther in search of winter stores passed the ranch of the operator whilst he was away on the chase, and had slaughtered five fat pigs off which the panther was proceeding to make a feast when the operator returned, about 5 o'clock, and numbered with the slain this poacher upon his preserves.

THE Alberni gold discoveries, says Geo. A. Huff, the merchant of that place, who is now in Victoria, have made the people jubilant, and there are already between thirty and forty prospectors at work. The recently published essays by the Government analyst bear out those made independently by Malcolm Ehrbridge, a prospector, and this circumstance adds to the value of the testimony as to the remarkable richness of the find. When Mr. Huff left Alberni on Monday, Hon. Col. Baker, minister of mines, and Mr. Carmichael, the analyst, had just started out to make an inspection of the places from which the rich samples came.

COLUMBIA ROYAL ARCH CHAPTER No. 120 Grand Registry of Scotland held their annual Convocation last evening. The officers for the ensuing year are: 1st Principal Z. B. S. Odly; 2nd Principal H. L. Dr. W. H. Richardson; 3rd Principal J. E. Langley; Scribe E. R. H. Swinerton; Scribe N. J. L. Stamford; Treasurer, C. E. Renouf; 1st Sojourner, C. D. Mason; 2nd Sojourner, H. Flett; 3rd Sojourner, R. E. Brett; Director of Ceremonies, Dr. G. L. Milne; Tyler, P. Cuniff. In the evening the newly elected officers were installed by B. Williams, assisted by A. Stewart and A. McKeown. After disposing of business, the members assembled at a banquet.

HATTIE HASTINGS, the young lady whose arrest for opium smuggling created something of a sensation a few weeks ago, has disappeared from Port Angeles for parts unknown, and is not expected to return for trial. Her absence, it is said, will prevent embarrassing revelations as to the gang for whom her smuggling operations were carried on. She had a good standing socially in Port Angeles, where she lived with her father, who is now 72 years old, and had some real estate to help pay for which a good part of the profits realized from her dangerous associations is said to have been used. Her father was once Mayor of the town of Mendota, in Illinois.

GOOD TIMES IN OKANAGAN.

Increasing Development of the Natural Resources—Hop Growing An Assured Success.

The Gold Mines Showing Very Rich Prospects, and Being Profitably Worked.

Ainsley Megraw, editor and publisher of the Vernon News, returned home this morning after spending a few days in Victoria. He states that in the Okanagan district, of which Vernon is virtually the capital, the crops, though not quite equal to those of former years, are still better than found in the older provinces, and as Mr. Megraw comes from Paisley, in the centre of the best grain producing district in Ontario, he is in a position to make an intelligent comparison. This year the Spallumcheen has been less fortunate than other parts of the district, but the Okanagan comes near its old average, and the Mission valley, in particular, has made a very good showing. This season has shown that hop growing is no longer of doubtful profit in the district. The hops on Lord Aberdeen's estate, both in the Coldstream and Mission valleys, are an excellent crop. The small supply grown last year and formerly was taken by the local brewery, but now that the hops are to be grown on a larger scale an outside market will have to be sought. On the Coldstream ranch alone half the crop had not been picked, and the amount paid to the Siwashers for picking had reached over a thousand dollars.

"The capacity of the Okanagan for wheat growing," continued Mr. Megraw, "is simply astonishing. With but one year's sowing crops have been gathered for three years in succession, the wheat shelled out during harvesting being the only seed required for the next year's crop, which would not be less than thirty bushels to the acre, against fifty for the first year. This curious state of affairs is accounted for by the amazing fertility of the land, and farmers knowing that nature will take care of their old wheat fields for them commonly take advantage of this good fortune and pay attention to new ground."

"I completed a two weeks' tour of the gold mining camps in the lower Okanagan just before coming to Victoria. The prospects are exceedingly good. At Camp Fairview, the only one accessible by wagon road, the Strathmore Mining Company, have their quartz mill running steadily upon ore from the Brown Bear and Wild West mines, and it is generally understood that the returns are fully satisfactory. The gold bearing quartz in this district is in unlimited quantities, and it appears to get richer the further it is followed. Camp McKinney is by many considered to be as good as Camp Fairview, but it cannot be worked at present owing to the absence of roads to take in machinery. There are a great many camps in the Boundary Creek district, among which may be mentioned Attwood's, White's, the Greenwood, Skylark, Providence, Deadwood and Copper. From the Skylark and Providence ore is being shipped by pack trains to Grand Prairie and thence teamed to Marcus, where it is shipped by rail to Tacoma. The cost of transportation alone of this ore is said to reach between $60 and $70 per ton, which is ample evidence of its richness. At Grand Prairie, on Kettle river, there is an excellent farming district which will yet supply the mines of that locality, when they are worked to their full capacity.

"Owing to the absence of any but the local market, furnished by the mills at Enderby, for grain, only the small price of $13 50 per ton is realized by the farmers of the Mission valley, while probably more than twice that amount is paid for wheat grown at the coast, which has the advantage of larger markets."

FRUITS AND HOPS.

An Encouraging Report on the Capabilities of This Province.

Prof. Saunders, director of experimental farms, who has returned to Ottawa after an official visit to British Columbia, gives an encouraging report as to the result of his observations in the Province. Fruit-growing is a branch of industry to which he thinks more attention might profitably be paid. "At the experimental farm at Agassiz," he says, "there are some very fine crops of plums on trees three years planted. The orchards there have been very much enlarged during the past year, and the number of varieties of fruit now under test is over 1,100. These tests are being carried on in the valley land, and also the bench land upon the sides of the mountains, where 500 fruit trees are put at heights ranging from 100 feet to 800 feet above the valley level; these are doing remarkably well, and have made a very strong growth. Judging from the dates of putting in and the general character of growth, it would appear that the trees and shrubs on the higher land bud earlier and the fruit will probably ripen earlier than those in the valley, although sufficient experience has not yet been had to make this very positive. There is so much land in British Columbia of this character on the mountain sides which is unfit for general agricultural work that the success of this experiment has awakened much interest among the fruit-growers of the Province.

"Good progress has also been made in the forestry work, especially in the planting of hardwood timbers. During last winter the Department of the Interior transferred to the Experimental farm 800 acres of additional land for this special work. During the spring over 3,000 young trees were planted on the hill side, mainly black walnut, ash, hickory, cherry and other valuable hardwood timber trees of the East. As the forests of British Columbia contain very little hardwood, the results of these tests are looked forward to with much interest.

"Hop growing is also fast becoming an important industry in that section. After visiting the hop yards at Agassiz and in the neighborhood, a journey was made to the familiar hop districts of Washington State, especially those at Puyallup, White River Valley and Kent, where a very large acreage is being devoted to this purpose. We also visited the hop yards in the drier districts of British Columbia, notably at North Yakima. This section of country a few years ago produced nothing but sage brush, but by irrigation the land has been made to produce large crops of hops and fruit. The hops in both these localities are fine and the crops are heavy. Comparing them with those seen at Agassiz and in the drier district of British Columbia and Spencer's Bridge, I am of opinion that hops can be grown quite as fine in quality, and as good in every respect in corresponding localities in British Columbia as they can in the State of Washington. This opens up an excellent field for the employment of capital and labor in that province.

"It is my intention to report at length as

MARTINEZ CAMPOS.

Unsuccessful Anarchist Attempt to Assassinate the Spanish General.

A Military Review Chosen as the Occasion to Carry Out the Plot.

BARCELONA, Sept. 26.—The excitement caused by the attempt of Anarchist Pallas to kill Gen. Martinez Campos at the review on Sunday continues. The general is resting easily and recovering from the effects of the wound inflicted by the fall from his horse and by the explosion of the bombs. Gen. Pernes Clemente was also badly wounded by fragments of the bombs, and thirteen of the staff were injured. The number of people among the spectators injured in the panic is unknown. The police are making a thorough inquiry into the whole matter and expect to have startling evidence to present when Pallas and his two fellow prisoners are brought to trial.

There had been a review of all the troops in this district early in the morning. Shortly before noon the captain general and his staff took their places on one side of the large square near the middle of the city and the march past began. A large crowd had gathered near the officers, but as no trouble was thought probable while the military filled the streets only four gen d'armes were at hand to preserve order. The head of the column had hardly passed the captain general when a bomb was thrown from the crowd. It struck near the captain general and exploded with tremendous force. The staff was thrown in confusion and the soldiers broke from the lines.

A few seconds later another bomb came from the crowd. It struck among the staff officers and exploded almost directly under the captain general's horse. He was thrown to the ground and his horse, with its legs shattered, rolled over beside him. General Castellvi, chief of staff, also fell wounded from his horse. A soldier of the civic guard was killed instantly and five others were injured so severely by pieces of shell that they will probably die. The march past was stopped and most of the soldiers broke ranks. The captain general's last order, however, as he was carried to a house near by, was that the parade should be continued. A physician hastily dressed a wound in his thigh, a bad bruise on the shoulder on which he fell, and several contusions of the leg.

The Captain-General then returned to his staff and witnessed from a carriage the rest of the parade. He afterwards telegraphed to Queen Regent Christina details of the attempt on his life and the assurance that he had no dangerous injuries. The man who threw the bombs was caught by the crowd and delivered to the police. He is named Pallas, and belongs to the gang of anarchists who have caused many explosions here in the last year. The beginning of the parade was witnessed by many persons in carriages. The explosions of the bombs frightened the horses and they dashed through the crowds. Several staff officers were thrown and their horses ran loose among the spectators. Two hundred persons were hurt severely by the runaways and many received slight injuries.

Pallas says he intended to kill Martinez de Campos and his whole staff. In his house the police found a great quantity of the most violent revolutionary literature. Two men who had lived with him and evidently had helped to make the bombs were arrested. Each of the bombs thrown was a hollow iron sphere charged with dynamite. All the windows near the scene of the explosion were shattered and large holes were dug in the ground where the bombs struck. The order for a grand review of troops yesterday was revoked.

FREE THINKERS VEXED.

They Complain That They Were Not Given Recognition at the Parliament of Religions.

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Piqued by the refusal of the powers that control the world's parliament of religions to give them any recognition, or to allow them the use of one of the halls in the art palace, the officers of the American Secular Union are putting forth extraordinary efforts to secure an immense attendance at their international convention, which opens here two weeks hence. The co-operation of the Canada Secular Union, of the Free Thought Federation of America, and of the Polish Free Thought Society has been secured, and the executive committee have expectations that fully 5,000 delegates will take part in the proceedings. Col. Robert Ingersoll has been selected to preside, and delegates will be present from London, Paris and different parts of Canada. The committee of arrangements of the religious parliament denies that the Free Thinkers were refused accommodations right out, and say that a hall was offered them conditional only on their pledge to abstain from denunciation of religious denominations and religious ideas.

EUROPEAN POLITICS.

Rumored Trouble Among British Liberals—France and Russia.

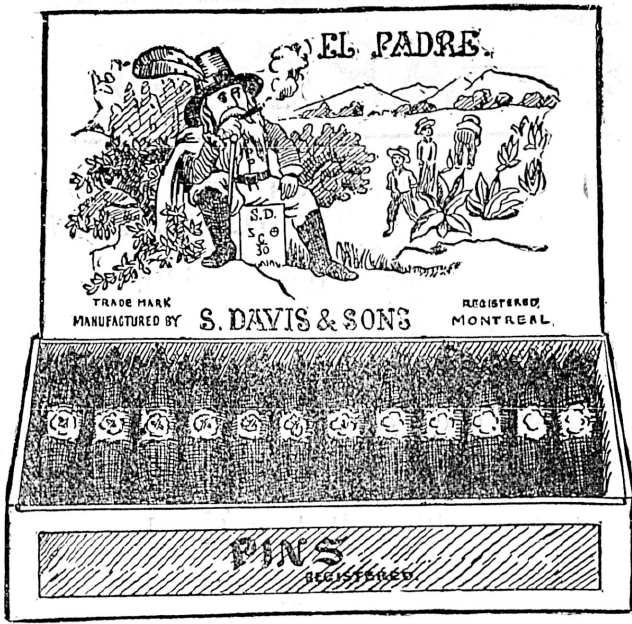

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Harold Frederic's cable to the Times from London says that a month ago Mr. Chamberlain was rash enough to declare that this year the appropriations should be obstructed, inch by inch, and the discussion of them extended indefinitely, but the Tory members quietly notified Mr. Balfour that they were following him and not Mr. Chamberlain, and, unless he said so, they would not remain in London during September. For the past three weeks Mr. Balfour and Mr. Chamberlain have played "Box and Cox" in the House, neither appearing unless the other was known to be absent. Mr. Chamberlain never opened his mouth on the estimates, and there will be no obstruction at all.

"The net results of the session thus far seem to be a feud between these leaders of the allied Tories and liberal unionists. They began the year by loud boasts that Mr. Gladstone's coalition would go to pieces before midsummer. Instead of that it is their own alliance which gives ominous signs of disruption. Apparently Lord Randolph Churchill has petered out altogether. Sundry performances at the outset of the session gave rise to the idea that he was going to make a desperate bid for a return to prominence, and, though his displays have been eccentric sometimes to the verge of the painful, there was a general disposition to receive him well. But for some reason he soon lapsed into voiceless inaction and it is taken for granted that he will never do anything serious again.

"A week ago I commented on the fears that French enthusiasm could not be kept up over a whole month till the Russian fleet arrived. Now the boat is quite on the other foot. The Russian minister at Paris, Baron Mohrenheim, has publicly notified the press committee of the Czar's desire that there be no public celebration whatever beyond a repast of the meagre programme observed when the French were at Cronstadt. If anything more is done, and if the Russian fleet's visit is turned into a manifestation against the enemies of France, insinuated, rather than openly said, this Imperial mouthpiece, the Czar, will be very angry and perhaps the whole fat will be in the fire.

WHEN YOU SEE IT ON THE BOX

You Know They Are Good.

"Some of the Paris editors preserve haughty silence, but others are so nettled at the impertinence that they indignantly declare that the French people are freemen, not slaves like the Russian moujiks and cannot dream of taking an order from the Czar as to the character and measure of the greeting they will give his fleet. In this same democratic spirit of protest the municipal council of Paris voted yesterday by only five dissenting voices to send a delegation to Toulon, Socialist Vaillant taking occasion to protest on his part against any toadying to the Russian autocrat, but the council also decided to give a banquet of 600 covers in the Hotel de Ville on the day of the Russian officers' arrival in Paris, and to do a lot of other things, all of which, it is assumed, the ministry, which is always at work upholding the interests of France against the whims of Paris, will forbid doing at all."

IN ARGENTINE.

The Whole Republic Convulsed—Organization of the Buenos Ayres Police as a Military Force.

BUENOS AYRES, Sept. 26.—Ex-President Pelligrini, undismayed by the threat of the rebels to shoot him on the spot if he again falls into their hands, is at Tucuman and telegraphs that he expects the rebels soon to surrender. Other advices have it that the foreign colonists of Santa Fe and neighborhood are joining the rebellion and a bloody engagement between the rebels and government is expected hourly. It is admitted that a determined rebellion against President Saenz Pena is on foot, and if the foreign element has taken a hand against the president his downfall is not unlikely, as foreign interests are powerful. The whole Argentine Republic is convulsed and a revolution is in progress throughout the north at least. There has been severe fighting, and more blood is certain to be shed. At Santa Fe some of the national troops have already sided with the rebels, and the latter expect further reinforcements from the same source. This is the situation from a rebel standpoint.

On the other hand, Pelligrini's adherents have equipped the National Guards of the districts of San Luis, Santiago and Cordova, and lively fighting is looked for. The Province of Entre Rio is sending several battalions of the National Guards to support the ex-president, who hopes to be soon at the head of an army large enough to subdue the rebels. The situation is growing more serious every hour. The rebels are now pressing Santa Fe. It is said it was not Gen. Alem who was murdered at Santa Fe, but Dr. Alem, leader of the Radical party. If this be the case it will cause still more bloodshed, for the Radicals are certain to avenge his death. By order of the Government, all Radical clubs are closed. Dr. Alem and his principal adherents were shadowed by the police. The other Radical leaders are handcuffed on board warships and held in close confinement. President Saenz Pena is now said to be willing to resign in favor of Ellauri. The report lacks confirmation. The police of the city are organized as a military force, and they will probably be sent with detachments of the National Guards. Gen. Rocas has been given command of the Government forces.

James Blair's Case.

NAPANEE, Sept. 26.—A highly interesting case has happened in this town, which is creating a good deal of comment. Mr. James Blair, a well-known merchant tailor here, has for fourteen years been a sufferer from that terrible complaint, known as Bright's disease of the kidneys. He suffered so terribly that one hour's work at the cutting table would completely exhaust him, and he had to almost give up work altogether. He tried almost every known remedy for his complaint, but without any good results. Medical men and patent medicines failed him, and he was gradually getting worse every day. Finally he read a dispatch in one of the local papers, stating that a man named Murray, living in Gravenhurst, had been cured of kidney trouble by using Dodd's Kidney Pills. As a last resort Mr. Blair began taking these pills, and seven boxes made a new man of him, and seven boxes completely cured him. Mr. Blair is back at work again, and says that he feels twenty years younger, and that these pills completely cured him. His recovery has created quite a sensation.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The Growth of KASLO this year has been unprecedented in the history of British Columbia.

In one year the Forest Growth has been replaced by streets lined with substantial buildings.

The population has increased in one year from 300 to 3,000, and is being added to at the rate of nearly 100 per day.

The immediate construction of the KASLO - SLOCAN RAILROAD will cause development that will increase the population this year to twice 3,000.

It is the supply point and outlet for the now famous mines of the Slocan, ore from which has been shipped via Kaslo all winter.

YET STYLISH WOMEN HAVE THE CONTOUR OF A TEA BELL.Two Handsome Fall Gowns—Plain Broadcloth In Place of Velvet—Model Church
Dresses—The Reign of Black Goods—A Struggle For White Hose.[Copyright, 1893, by American Press Association.]

Women are to look more like a tea bell than ever this fall, if we can judge by the newest model gowns, and, after all, they are not at all ugly. I dropped into a large house today whose specialty is fine dresses, and there I saw two very stylish and handsome gowns, both for street. One was made of tan colored cloth, with each seam lapped and stitched. The skirt was perfectly plain at the top all around, and flared gradually but decidedly at the bottom. On the right side at the bottom it opened over a panel of chocolate cloth and had two buttons set on for ornament, not use. There was a very jaunty jacket waist buttoning to the left and double breasted. Every seam was stitched on the outside like the box coats. The belt and turndown collar were of the brown cloth, and the sleeves plain gigot buttoned at the wrist. Altogether this is really a very handsome gown that would be suitable for women of almost any age. Made in black cloth or cheviot, it would be simply elegant. A flat black felt hat, trimmed with a square rhinestone buckle, two parrot wings and a red poppy, is to be worn with it.

A novel way of making up one of the new plaids is seen there also. The plaid is very large, the downward stripes indistinct and of several tones and colors. The cross stripe consists of two narrow black lines. The skirt is plaited very narrow on a foundation, and that gives it the appearance of having narrow lines of braid sewed around. The waist has a plaited fall of the plaid reaching to the belt and a ruffle of the same around the neck. The waist itself is of apple green surah, and so are the double puffed sleeves. The hat with this odd dress was of porcupine straw with shaded feathers held by a bow and a shaded chrysanthemum, the feathers lying flat around the low crown. The hat turns up military style. Long suede gloves are worn with this, reaching to the elbow, though two button glove gloves would do. The enormous size of the plaids makes it necessary to devise some new style that will show the pattern, yet not permit it to be too assertive, and the most of them will be cut on the true bias, and the patterns will join so as to seem to be all one. This is not an economical way to cut plaid, but that fact will perhaps be the very reason why that style will be popular.

I have noticed that plain broadcloth will be employed as flat bands on plaids often in preference to velvet. Velvet is richer, but if not of the best quality soon grows rusty on the bottom of a skirt, and if it is fine quality it is very costly. The cloth when properly applied is distinguished. It should be first tacked over a stiff lining and afterward sewed on with invisible stitches. Some put a narrow gold braid on the top, but this would not be suitable with every plaid. The dark gray and black, the black and white and some of the dull browns would look well, but not the bright colors with the gold braid. The cloth trimming should be about 3 or 4 inches wide. The top can be scalloped out, but it looks best plain.

I saw two very dainty church and visiting dresses for the young ladies, and as they are models in their way I mention them. One was of changeable dove colored taffeta, made with a modestly full skirt and with five equidistant ruffles superposed and each having a gaufered heading. There was a full gathered waist with narrow ruffle below the belt. There was a quaint little shoulder cape of plaid silk with an accordion plaited ruffle. The collar to the cape was double and of plaid, turned sharply down in the front and plaited in the back. The tiny bonnet had a wreath of very small roses around the brim and a blue butterfly on top.

The other dress was of pale blue india silk with white polka dots, each encircled with black. There were nine flounces cut on the straight and simply hemmed by hand. The waist was plain with a vest of maize crepe de chine and bretelles with four tiny ruffles each.

The tie and belt had a touch of pink, by being cut of rainbow crape. The sleeves were very full gigots. The harlequin hat had donkey ear bows and in the center a bunch of pink oleanders. The gloves were maize. The whole toilet was dainty and sweet. Black gauze and hermanis are made up much after the same style for church. Black is really the truly ladylike church gown, but we must make some allowance for youth and its love of color and brightness.

I notice in almost all the new costumes for young persons some sign of a more or less elaborate bertha or bretelle. The new designs for low dresses have berthas, and the others have the bretelles. This all goes to show that the 1830 styles will be even more pronounced as to waist and sleeve than before, and as to hats and bonnets they are about equally divided. There are many close bonnets for the conservatives, and hats of no particular form derive their style from the manner in which they are trimmed. There are many regular coal scuttle shapes and pokes with big crowns and ear flaps. Every new importation of pattern bonnets shows one or more direct copies from the 1830 styles with very little alteration. The only difference I find in them is that none has a cape, but I presume that crowning horror will be added before the season is over.

It is hard to predict just what will be the favorite dress fabric this fall, but I think it will be quite safe to assert that black, and black and white, in stripes or plaids will be the first choice. The new fabrics and designs in those combinations are so varied that it gives a wide range in pattern and quality to choose from. The black diagonal chevrons are the hand-somest for street wear, and when well made are so rich and refined that they are quite fine enough for visiting.

There has been a determined move for a long time to get the best dressers to adopt white hosiery in silk, sea island cloth, lisle or silk plated, but so far it has been without avail. Black hosiery has obtained too firm a hold, but now that the 1830 fashions are here white stockings with clocks and openwork patterns seem to belong to the period, and there is a growing demand for them, but it will be long before the majority give up to it. Still, clean white stockings are neat and dressy.

Some of the new ribbons are wonderfully pretty. There are plaids and gauzes and satins, but the season's ribbon is a grosgrain with satin edges, alike on both sides. All the other ribbons are to please individuals, but the grosgrain is the style.

HENRIETTE ROUSSEAU.

ALL READY MADE.

Is the Work of the Custom Dressmaker
Dying Out?

Less than 10 years ago it was impossible to purchase a ready made dress in America, no matter how urgent the necessity. Today, whether the garment is for funeral, festive or general purposes, if a woman's figure is not totally out of proportion, she can be accommodated without the slightest difficulty.

Those made in this country were at first very defective in cut and style. Every year, however, there has been a great improvement, the result being that today a woman can purchase a ready made dress of as perfect a cut, as well finished, and frequently better style, than if she had specially ordered it.

A mistaken idea is that women of taste do not buy ready made garments. Twenty years ago ladies of fashion had every article they wore made to order. At the present time there is but one article of wearing apparel to which the old prejudice slightly clings, and that is the corset. But even there that feeling is gradually growing less.

There is much about a ready made dress to commend it to the buyer. In the first place, a woman sees just what she is buying and how becoming or unsuited the style is to her figure. How infinitely more assuring it is to see a garment made up than to imagine how it will look when finished from a fashion plate! Fashion pictures too frequently turn out to be delusions.

The requisite in fitting ready made dresses is that the wearers' figures be not too far out of proper measurements—not that a woman need be a perfect figure by any means, but great as the success has been in fitting nearly all figures it is still very difficult for a woman with a 42 inch bust measure and a 36 inch skirt length, or a 34 inch bust measure, with a 45 inch skirt length, to be fitted in a ready made dress. The average sizes and those most called for are between 34 and 38. The American women are not generally full figures, and 40 and 42 are uncommon and are more particularly confined to matrons.

There are different methods followed by different suit establishments in regard to the waists. One very popular method is not making up the waist until after the suit has been purchased, a sufficient quantity of material being reserved for that purpose. The usual way is to make up the entire suit over a perfect model, allowing ample seams for all necessary alterations. In most of the finer houses the waists are finished exactly as though they had been fitted, thereby giving a great deal of unnecessary labor in the ripping. The French method is only adopted here in French houses or under French management, and is a great improvement upon this. The waists, although made up and finished sufficiently to show the style, are not stitched anywhere, but securely basted. When a lady purchases a dress, instead of fitting her the next day, the waist is ripped on her and fitted at once.

It is not with dresses alone that the demand for ready made articles has increased, but in every garment which a woman wears. In the matter of shoes, unless in exceptional cases, the only time when shoes are made to order is when they match the material in a dress. An extra line of odd sizes and shapes to accommodate all styles of feet is made in every grade of shoes. In fact, if a woman is not a physical monstrosity, there is no reason why she cannot buy everything she wears ready made.

LARDEAU

NORTHEAST ARM UPPER ARROW LAKE.

The Townsite Company have entered into a contract to build a wharf to deep water at lowest stage, at the foot of Victoria avenue. This will cost about $4000.

The C.P.R. Telegraph Company are building their through line from Revelstoke to Nelson, Nakusp and Kaslo via LARDEAU CITY, where the office for the Lardeau and Fish Creek Districts will be situated. It is expected that this line will be opened in a few weeks.

A Mining Recorder is stationed at LARDEAU—a convenience for the prospectors of this region. Many rich strikes have recently been made on Fish Creek, a few miles from LARDEAU. A steamer calls three times a week at LARDEAU.

The charter for the Lardeau & Kootenay Railroad has its commencement at LARDEAU CITY. This line will undoubtedly be built in the near future, as it is the only route to the famous Lardeau Mines on Trout Lake and the shortest and easiest pass to Kootenay Lake.

Prospectors and capitalists visiting the Lardeau Country will find the best Hotel Accommodation in West Kootenay at LARDEAU CITY. It is the entrance point to the Lardeau, Fish Creek and Duncan River Mines, and will save time, labor and money to prospectors who desire to visit these sections.

LARDEAU CITY has much in its favor. It is affected by the prevailing dullness at present, but its situation is such that it must become an important trading point, and grow into a considerable town.

Investors in West Kootenay should seek particulars about LARDEAU and the District tributary to it. Any information will be furnished upon application to the undersigned.
